

So.

Nobody should go in there at all ever.

What IS in there?

The Other World.

This began with a stone, yes? From Penwith? I want to know exactly how your archaeologist "tested it with sound."

It should all be in the secure cloud.

Show it to me. All of it.

I'm going to need a private office to work out of. Have a car put on stand-by for me.

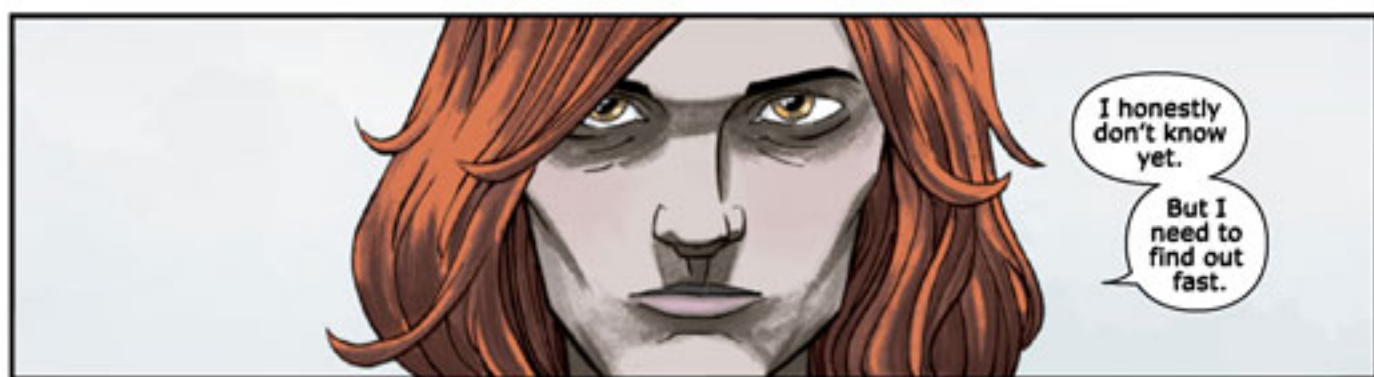

Personnel files on the archaeologist and the two security guards. Confirmation on their last known sightings.

And after that, this entire facility needs to be evacuated and sealed off.

Professor... what actually happened here?

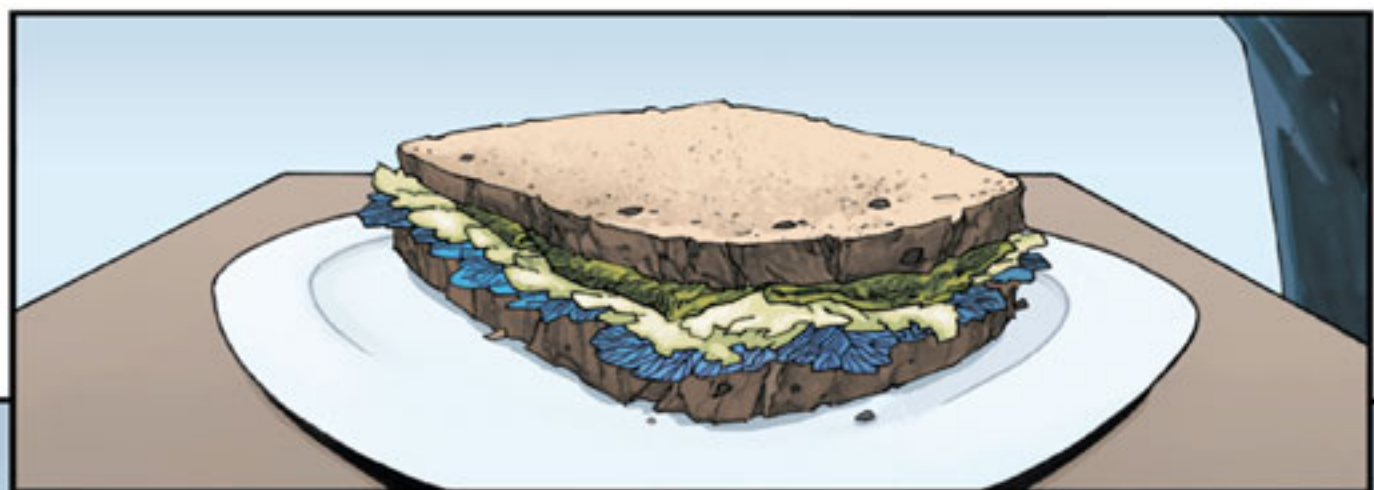

SHE KNOWS.

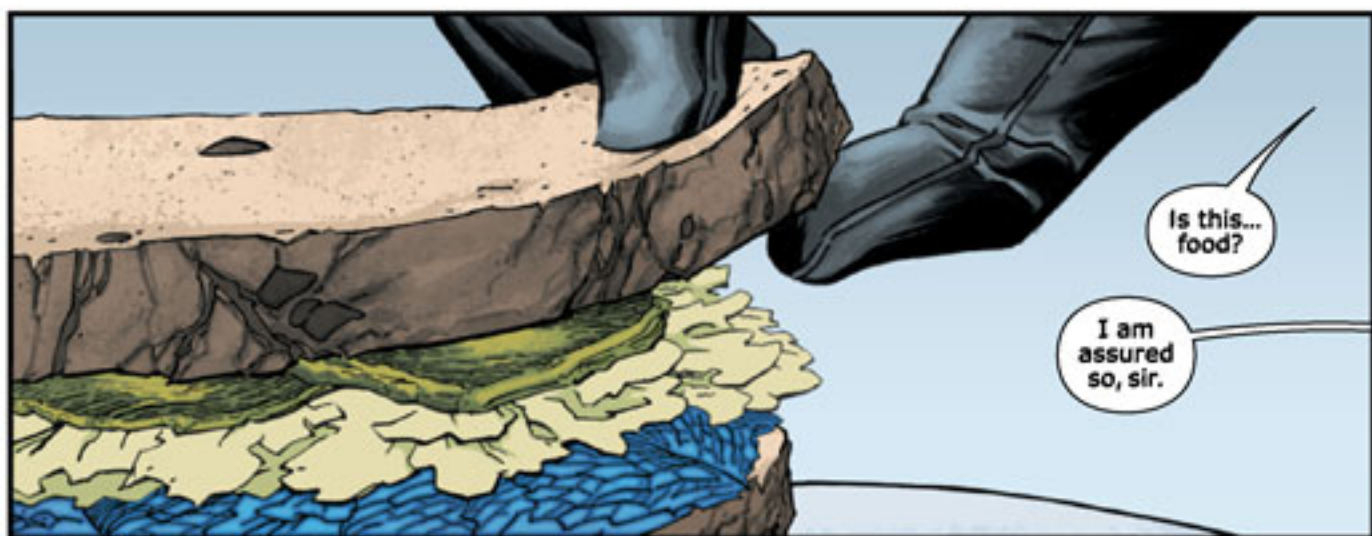

I honestly don't know yet.
But I need to find out fast.

And for THAT to happen I am going to need my SANDWICH.

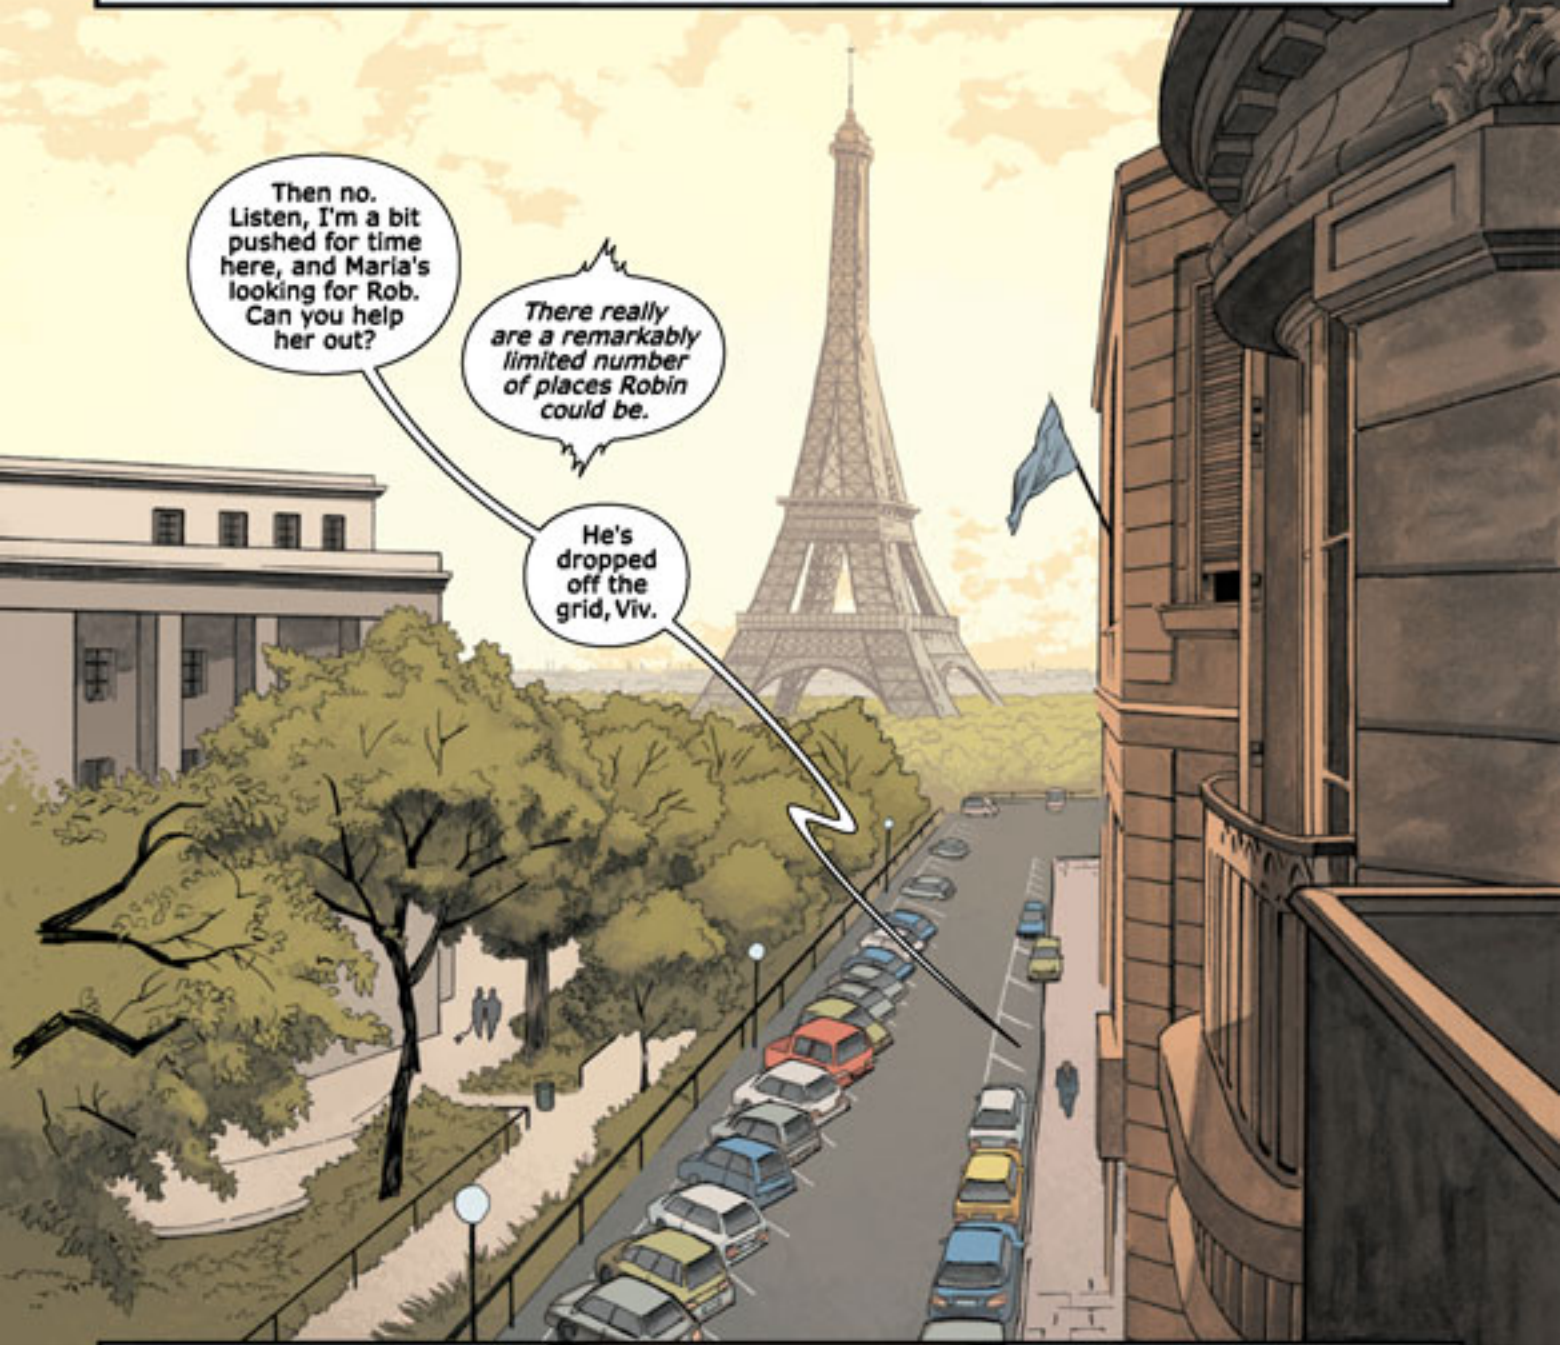

Simeon. Is lichen a thing that people eat for food now?

Depends on where you are. Where are you?

I am at home in Manhattan.

Then no. Listen, I'm a bit pushed for time here, and Maria's looking for Rob. Can you help her out?

There really are a remarkably limited number of places Robin could be.

He's dropped off the grid, Viv.

You mean he's not answering his telephone.

He's been walking the Ridgeway in England. I imagine he'll have made it to Liddington by now. Call the local hotels, cheapest and most impersonal first.
