

TOKYO

Boothroyd,
I need a crash
course on this Aston's arsenal.

If you don't mind, for budgetary reasons, I would prefer you not use
the words CRASH
and ASTON in the same sentence.

I'm
being tailed
by a Yakuza
motorcycle
gang.

What kind of toys
have you given me
to play with? Smoke
screen, oil slicks,
rocket boosters,
ejection seat?

You know how badly the pound is faring right now, 007.
You're lucky you're
not driving a used Beetle.

Come off it. You've never given me anything that wasn't some version of a Swiss Army knife.

The car's only weaponized feature is that it goes very, very fast.

And...

AND?

BURR BURR

AND the machine gun ports built into the rear bumper.

"I knew you'd come through for me, Boothroyd."

BURPA BURPA BURPA

BURPA BURPA

BURPA BURPA

I suppose you might say that the vehicle fires on all six-cylinders...

...AND a .50 caliber machine gun.
