

Team—report
in, please.

Mia and I are in
the communications
room.

On our way to the master
generator.

We got these up
and running, we'll have
air and pumps to deal
the flooded sections
of the base.

We're nearly
there.

On my way to sick
bay.

I'll get Ray
and then head back your direction.

Heading
to Jeyane's
lab.

Don't want him
getting accidentally sealed off in a
flooded section.

Copy that.
Make it quick.

We're
losing emergency
power.

Whatever
caused the explosion, it will be catastrophic if we don't do this right.

Well. That's that. We just hold tight and hope this place doesn't cave in on us.

Shut those valves and see if you can't divert some of that water.

We don't stop that, there won't be a damn centimetre to come back to.

Got it. These?

That's not good.

Yeah, that's no good in here. We've got to stay above this water...

Let me help.

Sir, I can take care of myself, also.

What's that, we activate our personal dive suits until they can get the water flooded.

Convincimi
obiettista.
