DAY TWO.

Dear Parents,

It is our duty to notify you that, on the first day of our Fall semester, twenty Yersin University students were diagnosed with the H3N8 virus.

Another thirty have shown symptoms as of this morning.

It remains unclear how the H3N8 virus made its way to campus, but it is irrefutable: Highly Pathogenic Canine Influenza has arrived at Yersin.

Following the guidelines set out by the Centers for Disease Control, we have designated our own Pascal South dormitory as an isolation facility.

Students who display any symptoms of the H3N8 virus will remain quarantined until they are deemed asymptomatic by Health Services.

Rest assured, the well-being of your children remains our priority.

We will continue to provide the care our students need in order to become the leaders of tomorrow.
