

Once there was a town named Wausau, Wisconsin.

GRANITE PEAK

It didn't have any superheroes because superheroes aren't real, so this isn't a superhero comic.

It was a normal town with normal people, except... One day, the dead people came back to life

Everybody should have been happy about that. Officer Dana Cypress was happy her sister Em came back for sure.

But not everybody was happy. A lot of people were afraid, because once you die you're supposed to stay dead.

The dead people were put in jail. They were sad and alone.

Em was put in jail because she ~~killed bad guys~~ was dead.

Officer Dana Cypress freed her sister, and fought a soldier who must've been pretty evil.

And she went on the run, fighting off evil soldiers, promising to free the dead and save the world.

THE HOME OF DERRICK HINCH.

RINGLE.
