

I SAID NO.

I SAID I WOULDN'T BE THEIR TOOL.

AND YET,
HERE I AM.

TWO WEEKS AGO...

The Siege
of Los Angeles.

The gangs of L.A.
united under one
military mastermind.

17-year-old
Destiny Ajeye.

The world thinks her dead, but for the last nine months she has been a "guest"
of the Madrasa Institute. A think tank for prodigies with gifts the government finds...advantageous.

Isolated from her classmates
and those who govern, she made a connection with only one person, Roger, a young computer savant.

And now he
is dead.

In truth, Destiny is realizing, everyone
she cares about ends
up dead. Eventually.
