
TWICE SHY
JOEL ORFF

Is that old lady rich?
Oh yeah. That's Mrs. Douglas. She's a regular of mine.

Do you think that you'll ever be rich?
Heh.
It doesn't seem too likely.
But, you know... I look at these big houses...
I don't know if I could live the kind of life you'd need to live to own one of them.
Pretty though, huh?

HO CAFE

Oh... you have an animal rescue shelter in your neighborhood.
I love animals.
KEATING ANIMAL RESCUE SHELTER
They accept volunteers. You should do that. It would give you something fun to do during the day.
I don't know... I've never done anything like that before.
There's a first time for everything.
Have you ever done it?
No... no.
Is this what you do? Drive around all day and then go home and drink beer?
Well... I don't think of that as my real job...

So, you wrote and drew these books?
Uh-huh.
What are they about?
Well, you could read them.
I know... but tell me, too.
Uh... some of them are things I made up...
... and some are about me, or friends of mine.
So, I might be in one someday?
Sure.

All of these little notebooks have a few pages of notes and then the rest are blank.
Yeah... I've been working on a new book, but I'm kind of stuck...
Every time I get a new idea for a book, I feel like I need to get a new notebook to go with it.
Is that me?
Yeah.
I look sad.
Sorry.
