Bright skies and crisp air permeate the lush and rich land of Torrenfall, realm of the Rain Dancers. High above the vast ether, the city waits with anticipation to hear news of an important decision being made in the royal palace.

From his throne, the great King Farro, along with his advisors--High Cleric Moluk, General Gunther, and Chief Engineer Kaboo--provides counsel and witness for his daughter's Day of Elevation--a sacred rite in which a young Cloud Rider selects the type of rider he or she wishes to become.

THIS, I UNDERSTAND YOU HAVE COME TO A DECISION.

I HAVE, FATHER.
