One Hour Earlier...

In the Statue of Liberty's Head...

=sigh=

Still nobody, guys.

That's three hours we've been held hostage. Huh. I really thought we'd have been rescued by now.

Yo, who do you think's gonna save us?

Ooh, I hope Thor!

I love that woman. Abs of steel. Abs of the gods. And she hates it when people get taken hostage!

I hope Iron Man.

Yeah, except he just designed his armor to look like abs! They're painted on. Who does that?

Hello? He modeled the suit abs after his real abs.

Oh my gosh, can we please stop talking about abs?? Please let's talk about literally anything else.

Well, who do you think's gonna rescue us?

Oh, I don't think: I know. She's strong. She's smart.

She's the Unbeatable Squirrel Girl.

Could "She punches them until they stop doing crimes" be basically the perfect description of every super hero ever? This author who just now wrote that sentence says: yes!

"...with a surprise."
