

What is your dilemma about business and military here at the moment in California. Is there any other alternative to trading and buying that would lead to a flourishing economy?

In California, there are a lot of people who are looking for employment. They are looking for jobs and are willing to work for a low wage. They are looking for jobs and are willing to work for a low wage. They are looking for jobs and are willing to work for a low wage.

It is a very difficult situation. There are a lot of people who are looking for jobs and are willing to work for a low wage. They are looking for jobs and are willing to work for a low wage. They are looking for jobs and are willing to work for a low wage.

It is a very difficult situation.

