The DEADLIEST Animal in the World

What is the most dangerous game? (In the "animal" sense, not in the "board game" sense, though I believe the most dangerous board game is Jenga because it could fall on you?) Is it snakes? Sharks? Humans themselves? Hah hah no, it's none of those--it's MOSQUITOES. Check it out:

APPROX NUMBER OF HUMANS KILLED BY ANIMALS PER YEAR:

(according to the World Health Organization, who would know this sort of thing)

- 10 _____ SHARKS
- 10 _____ WOLVES
- 100 _____ LIONS
- 100 _____ ELEPHANTS
- 500 _____ HIPPOS
- 1,000 _____ CROCS
- 10,000 _____ FRESHWATER SNAILS
- 25,000 _____ RABID DOGS
- 50,000 _____ SNAKES
- 475,000 _____ HUMAN-ON-HUMAN VIOLENCE,
HEY, HUMANS, MAYBE CALM DOWN A BIT
- 725,000 _____ MOSQUITOES

So yeah, mosquitoes can carry disease, and they're on every continent except Antarctica, so if you find yourself surrounded by unfamiliar mosquitoes, maybe don't offer up some bare arms to these flying blood parasites right away, huh??

Well, Melissa wasn't lying. Mosquitoes really are the most dangerous animal on the planet.

Great. Just great.

Snails: Surprisingly high up on that list, yeah? Turns out it's not the snails themselves that are a threat (phew), but parasites they carry that can mess with humans too. Nice try, snails! You want everyone to think you're tough but now we all know you're just surprisingly unwell!!!

Other squirrels (not pictured) include "Professor Twigs," "Danni," and "Catherine 'the Cashew' Pawsworth." They don't show up in this issue, but they're having a great time! This guy in the park is feeding them his entire hot dog bun! It's like their best day ever!!

...and I gather you're looking for me?
