

Hkkk--
:ptui!:

SKWEEEEE

Goddamn...

HELLO, sailors. You know the drill.

Here is your THRILLING summary of news from your various home countries the Captain has received during the day.

Australia:

No news today.

Bahrain:

Crown Prince Amir issued a statement that his government has the Z-virus outbreak completely under control and that the failure of Western countries to do the same is a result of their godless, degenerate practices and blah, blah, blah...

nnnnn

nnnnnn
NNNNNN

Exact same as YESTERDAY'S statement, in other words.

Moving ON...

Canada: The mayor's office of ALERT, in Nunavut... Nunavut...er...

RRR
RRR
RRR

...uh, you know, the most NORTHERN province...

NNNNN

NNNNN

...has continued its broadcast encouraging any and all survivors to make their way there to wait out the Z-pocalypse...

KLTT

...don't hold your breath...
KOF KOF KOF

KLTTAT

Denmark:

For the third day in a row, Parliament was unable to formally convene due to insufficient living members present...

...the survivors are working to change the Constitution with regard to number of members required to MAKE quorum...

...except, you know...

...they don't have a QUORUM.

Egypt:

No news today.

France:

National Front militias, socialist militias, and the actual French ARMY all claim victory and therefore CONTROL of the recently cleared-out Champs-Élysées...

...I'm sure THAT will end well...

Crap.

RATTLE RATTLE

NOW what?

Temporary setback.

No dumbass screen
over the stairs is gonna keep me from getting payback for Rhiannon and Arnold.

And...the Soylent-2, right, we're gonna get that too?

The soylent's not going anywhere. It's on this boat, going out to sea, along with us.

And once we kick the crap out of every murderous asshole responsible for their deaths, it'll be that much easier to steer this bitch
back to port--

No way,
Israel-- we gotta use STEALTH, find a lifeboat and sneak the Soylent off--These guys are organized.
And not entirely stupid.

Neither are we, Edie.
Neither are we.

GGGGUUUUH