

It's an impressive sight. To see how far we have come as a species. To understand all that we have accomplished.

Fire.

Steam.

Electricity.

The microchip.

Nuclear fusion.

Who would have dreamed we could ever reach such heights?

Still, given all that progress-- all those advancements...

...We haven't really evolved.

*The masses are still moved by
the spectacle.*

*The
visceral.*

violent.*

They eat it up. Embracing the distractions from whatever shortcomings their own lives may hold.

*We've merged
the technological
and the organic
to amp up the experience. Make it bigger and
badder.*

*So much so that
it's gotten hard
to tell where the machine ends and the man begins.*

Until it's all over.
