The Graymalkin Habitat.

Westchester,
New York.

Can anyone
travel through a
gateway, Mrs.
Grey?

No. Not
everyone.

Any mutant
can, of course. Krakoa
recognizes its own.
But anyone or anything
that isn't a mutant must be accompanied by one--
and even then we have to ask for permission.

You see,
Krakoa is very
protective, and it's always important
to have good manners.

Okay, here
we go. Just walk through, and then
we'll be on the island.

"...and we've entered a whole new world."

Whoa.

Yeah. That does about cover it.

The plan is for most of the younger mutants to live in the habitat near the lagoon, but there really aren't any rules regarding that...

So if you see somewhere else you'd rather be, that's perfectly fine.

Oh wow...

Look! That's Professor Xavier. Over there, with that hairy guy.

Yes. Why don't you go introduce yourself?

And the hairy guy's name is Logan.
