

Do you think something is wrong with me?

You dreaming doesn't seem like a defect.

It could have just been my maintenance programs rearranging information incorrectly.

What did it feel like when you experienced it?

I was conscious of being aware I wasn't conscious.

That sounds like a dream to me.

But then what does it mean? Aren't dreams supposed to mean something?

It depends on who you ask.

But it's your dream. What it means is up to you, I think.

...I haven't spent much time thinking about the ocean.

I've never even been there. Or on a boat.

Maybe you were just really thirsty.
