

THE GREAT DRAIN ROBBERY!

In the Penguins' underground base...

Kowalski.

Private.

This is an M.R.E.

Meal Ready to Eat?

Rico.

Bleuuur!

Skipper.

Meal Rejected by the Enemy!

Skipper, remember that time we were in the sewers for Plan X? We saw the garbage disposal lines for Café Henri, The Oyster Inn, and Wickliffe's Warf.

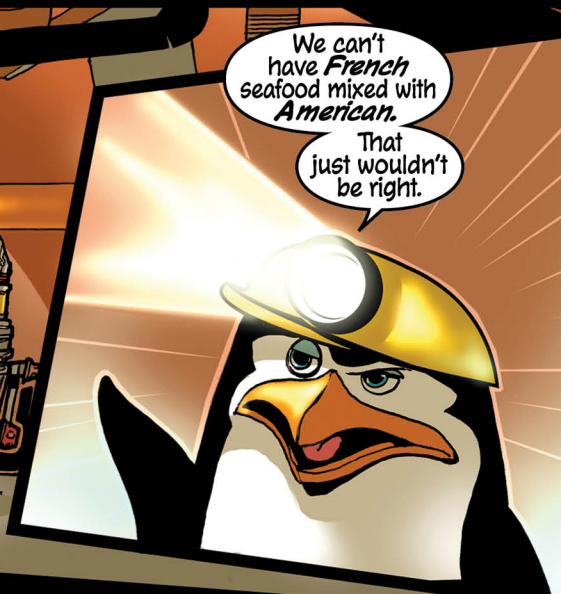

What if we routed them here.

Three Gorges Dam! That's a fine plan, soldier.

Let's get cracking!

Careful with that pipe, men! Structural integrity is the key!

We can't have French seafood mixed with American.

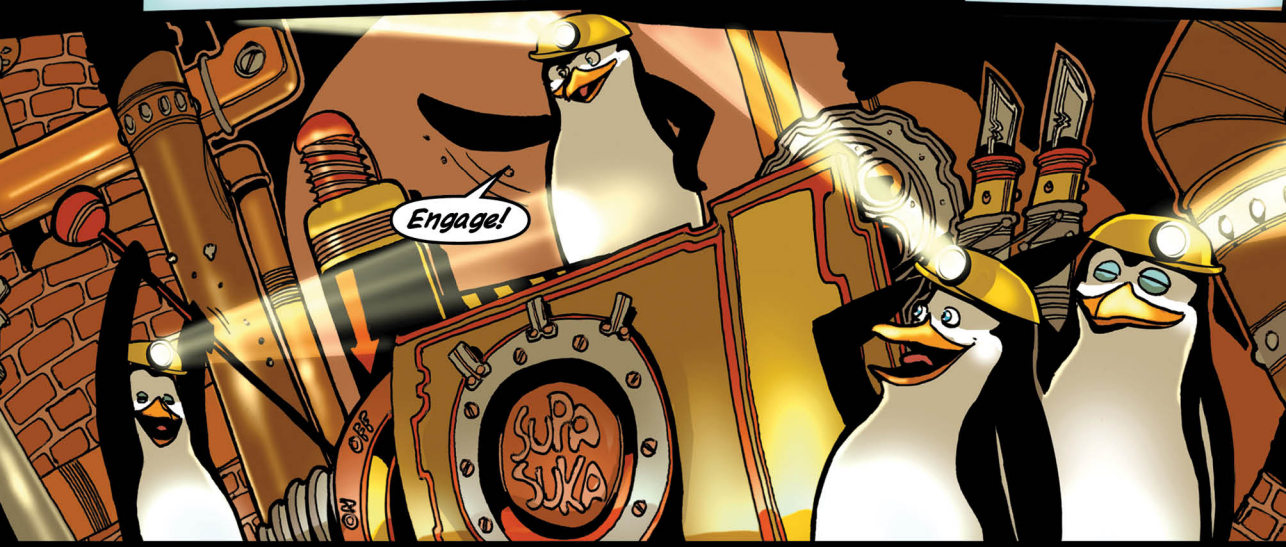

That just wouldn't be right.

Rico! Put away the dynamite! This isn't Plan X anymore!

Good job, men, now start up that pressure pump! I want tableside dining by eighteen hundred!

Engage!

Mmmmm.

I second that sentiment, soldier.

Pass the Bonnefroy sauce, if you will.

Boys, this is more like it. Oysters, shrimp, lobster, and a pan-seared Chilean sea bass. This is a spread fit for a king.

Funny you should say that.

See, that food is fit for a king. Me. The King of the Rats. It was my food til you stole it

You're outnumbered, out-flanked, and out-manoeuvered. Cough up the grub and we'll let you go without a beating.

If you fight back, we'll be enjoying a little poultry - I hear penguin is quite delicious if a little oily..

I don't think so. Boys, this is a military problem with a military solution.
