

2035

Temperature at plus-one degrees centigrade and falling.

Atmospheric pressure drop detected.

Easy, Vigilant.

There! We need to secure the substation!

The elements are being focused on us. How can we withstand this much longer?

Temperature now negative-one degrees centigrade.

Out there on the open street we'll never make it!

If we don't secure the power station, it'll be vulnerable to sabotage!
